CERTIFICATION OF TRUST

KELSEY BROWN REVOCABLE TRUST

I, Kelsey Fey Brown, as trustee, represent that:

1. I, Kelsey Fey Brown, as settlor, entered into the Kelsey Brown Revocable Trust Agreement dated February 4, 2025 ("Agreement"), with myself and my successors as trustee of the Kelsey Brown Revocable Trust (the "Trust") created under the Agreement. The Agreement is a written document, and the Trust is a written trust. The Agreement was executed on February 4, 2025.

2. This Certificate is a true and correct representation of some of the various terms of the Trust. The Trust is in existence. The Trust has not been revoked, modified or amended in any manner that would cause the representations contained in this certification of trust to be incorrect.

3. Kelsey Fey Brown is the current trustee of the Trust (the "Trustee"). The current address of the Trustee is 2211 NW Willow Street, Bentonville, Arkansas 72712.

4. The Trust is a revocable trust created for the benefit of Kelsey Fey Brown, who is the sole lifetime income and principal beneficiary. Kelsey Fey Brown holds the power to revoke the Trust.

5. The power and authority of the Trustee to deal with the property of the Trust and of third parties to deal in good faith with the Trustee includes (but is not limited to) the following powers and authority (which are paragraphs excerpted from the Agreement):

> "6. ADMINISTRATION. 6.1 Powers. 6.1.1 Listed Powers. Except to the extent that the following powers are in conflict, inconsistent with or limited by other provisions of this Agreement, the Trustee will have the power:
> (1) to buy, sell, lease, convey, grant security interests in, mortgage and pledge trust assets (real or personal property) on terms (that include periods that start in the future or extend beyond the trust term unless otherwise limited by perpetuity limitations) the Trustee determines advisable (with or without notice at either public or private sale and subject only to those confirmations and other requirements of local law and courts which may not be waived by my direction), including with respect to any warranties or indemnifications;
> (2) (a) to hold and retain any property in the form received under this Agreement (including by continuation of a sole proprietorship or other business form);
> (b) to invest and reinvest trust assets in all forms of real and personal property, which includes:

(i) investment or reinvestment in loans, bonds, notes, futures, stock or other securities of any kind, shares or participating interests in any common trust fund of any corporate trustee, mutual funds and other forms of joint investment (that may be managed by, advised by or affiliated with a trustee), insurance, annuities, real estate, mortgages, real estate trusts, partnerships, mutual funds, venture capital or other private equity, leveraged or speculative funds, closely held businesses, tax shelters, foreign assets, oil and gas and other natural resource interests, equipment, commodities, currencies, collectibles, precious metals or other real or personal property of any kind considered appropriate in trustee discretion, and

(ii) investment or reinvestment by organization, operation and dissolution of businesses as corporations, sole proprietorships, general or limited partnerships, limited liability companies, business trusts, joint ventures or other forms (with authority to elect to a board of directors any individual Trustee or officer or employee of any corporate Trustee or an affiliated entity, to pay premiums on liability insurance maintained for any such individual Trustee or officer or employee acting as a director and to receive additional compensation in respect of this service);

(c) to exercise all options, rights and privileges to convert stocks, bonds, notes, mortgages or other property into stocks, bonds, notes, mortgages or other property, subscribe for additional other stocks, bonds, notes, mortgages or other property and make such conversions and subscriptions and payments for such conversions and subscriptions and hold such stocks, bonds, notes, mortgages or other property so acquired as investments of the trust;

(3) to trade in securities, including by options, short sales, futures and on margin, and to maintain margin accounts and pledge securities held in the trust for loans and advances to the trust;

(4) to borrow from any source (including from a trustee individually) and mortgage or pledge any assets of the trust for any purpose;

(5) to permit and engage in the use and severance of natural resources (including oil, gas, ore, coal, timber and other minerals and resources) as an owner of real property in which such natural resources are situated, as a lessee, licensee, partner or joint venturer in respect of such use and severance, or as a holder of any royalty, interest or miscellaneous right involving such use and severance, and in so doing, to secure appraisals and geological surveys and studies, make pooling and unitization agreements, make agreements involving the installation or operation of absorption, repressuring or other processing plants, pay delayed rents, lease bonuses, royalties and overriding royalties, drill, rework or recomplete wells, test, explore, treat, mine, produce, recover, process, store, transport and market any minerals or other natural resources, pay all reasonable expenses, employ, supervise and discharge independent contractors and employees and take any other action necessary or desirable in order to use and sever natural resources;

(6) to enter into underwriting, purchase and stockholder deposit agreements, sign prospectuses, sign and file registration statements, give powers of attorney to sign registration statements, execute bonds and take any other action necessary to register and sell securities;

(7) to apply trust assets otherwise distributable to a beneficiary to the use of or for the benefit of the beneficiary, and for a beneficiary under age twenty-one (21) or legal disability, to transfer the assets to a custodian for the beneficiary under a transfer to minors act or the legal guardian of the beneficiary's estate;

(8) to make allocations and distributions of trust assets in cash or in specific property (including undivided interests), or both, which are not pro rata in character of assets and without regard to the income tax basis of specific property allocated or distributed;

(9) to litigate, submit to arbitration, compromise, adjust or settle claims against or on behalf of the trust and execute agreements, deeds, releases and other documents connected with such action;

(10) to retain or take title to any property held in trust in bearer form or in the name of any custodian or nominee, without disclosing this relationship;

(11) to charge fiduciary accounting income with charges described in paragraph 9.1.

These powers may be exercised without regard to any fiduciary requirement concerning nature of legal investments and without liability for lack of productivity, decline in value or lack of diversification, and if the Trustee disposes of assets, without liability for loss resulting from any increase in the value of the assets after disposition.

6.1.2 Incorporated Statutory Powers. In addition, to the extent not inconsistent with the subparagraph 6.1.1 listed powers, the Trustee will have those powers set forth in Ark. Code Ann. § 28-69-304 (4)-(38) as enacted at this date (that are designated as paragraphs "e" through "ff" of Section 3 of Act 153 of the 1961 Acts of the General Assembly of Arkansas and as paragraphs "(33)" through "(38)" of Section 1 of Act 421 of the 1993 Acts of the General Assembly of Arkansas) which are incorporated in this Agreement by reference.

6.1.3 Other Trust Code Powers. In addition, to the extent not inconsistent with the subparagraph 6.1.1 listed powers and the subparagraph 6.1.2 incorporated statutory powers, the Trustee will have those powers granted by the Arkansas Trust Code.

6.1.4 Exercise. The powers of the Trustee are exercisable without court authority. These trustee powers (and the other administrative terms of this Agreement) apply to all trust assets held by the Trustee until actual distribution of the trust assets, which includes the windup period with respect to the termination of a trust.

* * * * * * * * * *

6.10 Duty of Person Dealing with Trustee. A person who in good faith and for value deals with a trustee or a co-trustee (or a person purporting to be a trustee or co-trustee), or who in good faith assists a trustee or co-trustee (or a person purporting to be a trustee or co-trustee), in the conduct of a transaction (e.g., a purchaser of trust assets, a transfer agent, a dividend disbursing agent, a bank or a brokerage firm) will not be required to:

(1) ascertain whether this person who purports to be a current trustee is in fact then occupying the position of trustee;
(2) ascertain whether this trustee has the power to act alone, or if applicable, on behalf of the other co-trustees;
(3) ascertain whether a trustee is properly exercising any power;
(4) assure the proper application of any property paid or delivered to a trustee.

Deeds, notes, checks, contracts, leases, bills of sale, trust certifications and other documents or writings, or other action or nonaction, which bind the trust, subject the trust to liability or create other legal relationships with respect to the trust assets may be executed, or taken or not taken, (a) by one co-trustee or (b) by another person designated by the Trustee to act for the Trustee (such as an agent for the Trustee)."

6. Title to assets of the Trust should be taken in a form similar to the following examples:

Kelsey Fey Brown as trustee of the Kelsey Brown Revocable Trust under the Kelsey Brown Revocable Trust Agreement dated February 4, 2025.

The trustee of the Kelsey Brown Revocable Trust u/a/d February 4, 2025.

7. This Certificate is being used to certify the existence of the Trust, to identify the Trustee of the Trust, to describe relevant powers and authority of the Trustee and provide examples of the form of taking title to assets in the name of the Trustee in order that the Trustee can deal with third parties, such as financial institutions, stock transfer agents, brokerage houses, title companies, insurance companies, without disclosing the entire Agreement, which is a private and confidential document.

8. A person may deal in good faith with the Trustee without any duty to inquire about or investigate the necessity or expediency of any act by the Trustee, any provision of the Agreement that is not set forth in this Certificate and the disposition of any property or cash delivered to the Trustee.

9. Anyone may rely on a photocopy, pdf computer file or other reproduction of this Certificate as if that reproduction were the signed original if the reproduction is provided to the third party by me, my attorney-in-fact, an attorney-at-law representing me, the Trustee or an attorney-at-law representing the Trustee.

10. All third parties dealing with the Trustee may rely on this Certificate of Trust or its reproduction as a true statement of the provisions of the Trust and the related information set forth above, such statement being effective as of the date that this Certificate or its reproduction is presented to the third party (regardless of the date listed below), unless the third party has actual knowledge that the statements contained in this Certificate are not correct. The Trustee is expressly authorized to take that action necessary to cause third parties to rely on this Certificate and to preserve the confidentiality of the Agreement (including legal action for damages from a third party who fails or refuses to rely on this Certificate). Note: A person presented with this Certificate who also makes a demand for a copy of the Agreement that is not in good faith may be liable for damages pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. §28-73-1013(h).*
